HEROES OF BUENA VISTA.

Their Sadly Neglected Burial Ground Near Saltillo, Mexico.

The hardy young Americans who left their comfortable homes in the United States more than half a century ago and came to Mexico with General Taylor to fight against the people of this country probably did not think that should they fall in battle their bones would be left to crumble to dust in an unmarked spot in this distant land. But today the dead heroes of the Buena Vista battlefield lie under but a few feet of earth in a neglected place just outside this city. At the time of their hasty burial their devoted comrades evidently sought to make the spot somewhat sacred by constructing an adobe wall around it. This wall is fast succumbing to the ravages of time, and in places it is completely gone. I visited the burial ground of the dead heroes today. A tram car took me as far as the pretty San Francisco plaza, and from there I walked through a dirty, narrow street until I came to an arroyo, on the other side of which the faint marks indicating the cemetery may be seen. Had I not received careful directions I should have passed the place unnoticed. On the side toward the city the wall is entirely gone for the most part, and a much traveled wagon road passes through the place and over the sacred dead. The place which had once been enclosed by the adobe wall embraces probably two acres, but investigation shows that many were buried west of the wall and up close to the arroyo.

Some time ago the report was published in the press of the United States that the bones of the buried soldiers were protruding from the ground, and that the place presented a sickening spectacle. This report was not strictly true, but it is undoubtedly a fact that parts of many of the skeletons have come to the surface. The ground is strewn with fragments of bones, and it is evident that they come from the men who were buried there. None of these bones is large, as the heavy traffic through the place has broken them up into small pieces. If any skulls came to the surface, they were no doubt quickly taken by the Mexican children who were about and made innocent playthings of. Had they ever appeared they certainly would not have remained intact on the surface long. In the arroyo, through which floods of water pass at times and wash one side of the burial ground, there are also many pieces of bones among the rocks, and among them I saw an unbroken rib bone which looked like that of a human.

There is not a spear of grass nor a sign of vegetable life within the inclosure. It is perfectly barren. The place should certainly receive attention at the hands of the United States congress, even if nothing more is done than to take such steps as will stay the ravages of time and weather on the treacherous soil and permit the bodies lying there to rest undisturbed. It could easily be made an attractive and even beautiful place by laying it out in walks and planting trees and plants. The ravages of the floods in the arroyo on the soil of the cemetery could be checked by the building of a substantial wall along that side. In addition to the several hundred who were killed in battle, all of the soldiers who died in the hospital here were also buried there.—Mexican Letter in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Human Printing Press.

General Joseph S. Smith of Maine tells how he published a paper without a press in Bath, Me., many years ago: "When I'd get my paper all set up and ready for the press, I'd lay the type on a washstand, get it all leveled down well in the chase, or the frame in which 'twas locked up, and then I'd call in the hired girl. She weighed about 210 when she sat down. That's what I wanted—sitting down weight. So, after the hired girl came in I inked the type, laid over it the sheet of paper and on top of that the blanket, and then I politely invited the hired girl to sit down on the washstand. Two hundred and ten pounds, remember! The result was just as good an impression as you could get on any $100 hand press made in the United States. My edition in those days was about 200 copies, and the hired girl was good for the job at one sitting—no, at 200 sittings. And she took an interest in it, too, and was just as ready for business every publication day as a $20,000 Hoe perfecting press would be."

"If any of you know just cause or impediment why these two persons should not be joined together in Holy Matrimony, ye are to declare it, or forever after hold your peace." If physicians obeyed this solemn admonition in the marriage ceremony and protested with the honest and scientific reasons in their possession half of the unhappiness, sickness and death in the world would cease to exist. The man or woman who has developed symptoms of that dread disease consumption should not marry until cured. Consumption should bar the way to wedded life. It is a crime to transmit to future generations the death-dealing germs in the blood of the consumptive. Many physicians pronounce consumption an incurable disease. In this they are mistaken as thousands will testify. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. It corrects all disorders of the digestion. It promptly improves the appetite and makes it keen and hearty. It fills the blood with the tissue-building elements of the food, and acting directly upon the lungs, drives out all impurities and disease germs. It makes rich, pure blood, builds new, firm, healthy flesh, and strong, springy muscles. It soothes and invigorates the nerves. Thousands have testified to their permanent recovery from consumption through its use, after they were given up by the doctors and all hope was gone. Druggists sell it and nothing else is "just as good."

There cannot be too many good, practical books in a home. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is a good practical book for husbands, wives, mothers, daughters and sons. WAR IN THE ORIENT NOT IM-PROBABLE.

The Germans, Russians and French are acquiring territory in China. The Russian claim to have permission from the Chinese Government to occupy one of its ports during the winter, while the Germans and French do not say as much as "by your leave" to the Chinese Emperor, but take what they want by force. Great Britain, which pretends to have the exclusive right to seize and hold the territory of savage or barbaric powers, does not like to see other nations exercise what it deems its exclusive prerogative and it is protesting against the occupation of Chinese territory by the other powers. It has an understanding with Japan, which is interested in preserving Chinese autonomy because of an unpaid war debt, and there is a probability of war between the navies of European powers in Oriental waters. England is preparing the way for troops through Canada to Victoria on Puget Sound where vessels will be in readiness to take them across the Pacific should their services be required in China.

In a naval war Great Britain, the empress of the seas, has the advantage of the other European powers. She can assemble a larger fleet in Chinese waters than Russia and Germany combined, though either of these two powers has larger land forces. It is possible that there may be no rupture between those powers, but Russia and Germany are comparatively free from the clutches of the gold trust and will do very much as they please without asking the consent of the London gold broker. Should they come to blows in the dispute over China the farmers and producers of the United States would reap a rich harvest, as wheat, corn, cotton and pork would double in price within a year. The Crimean war, in which England, France and Turkey were arrayed against Russia, caused an advance of about a dollar a bushel in the price of wheat in the United States.

The year 1898 of the Christian Era made its debut this morning. It is bright and hopeful and millions of the human family joyfully greet it and resolve to make amends for their former shortcomings by discarding their bad habits and endeavoring to adopt better ones. It has been said by wise men that, to a very great extent, "we are the architects of our own fortunes," while others equally as noted for the wisdom of their sayings assert that "there is a power that shapes our ends rough hew them as we may." Whether the sages who expressed these widely different opinions were right or wrong is a question that has never been satisfactorily determined, many persons believing that success or failure depends upon their own efforts, while very many others stoutly maintain that fate, fortune, or what is generally called "luck" determines everything that pertains to matters terrestrial. "Whichever theory is right it is certain that we are all, to a greater or less extent, creatures of habit and that our habits have much to do with our welfare in this world."

As this is a season in which hope springs anew in the human breast it should cheer us on with renewed courage, and while feeling that our fortunes may depend on fate it will not retard our progress if we do all in our power to help ourselves and our neighbors. That the year 1898 may prove the happiest for our people and the brightest for our State and Nation is the sincere wish of the JOURNAL.

LIGHTING THE TOWN.

The question of lighting the town at night is one in which the citizens are taking a lively interest. In these progressive days all towns of any importance are lighted, and there is no reason why Reno should not be, except that the revenue since the city was incorporated will not justify the expense. It is nonsensical to assume that the City Council is responsible for this condition of affairs. The greater part of the revenue derived from taxation for the maintenance of the city government was expended before the council was organized. No doubt, the members of the Council are as desirous of having the city lighted, as other citizens can be. The question therefore resolves itself into a matter of dollars and cents. If the revenue warrants the expenditure the city will doubtless be lighted. If it does not it remains for the business men and citizens to devise means to pay for the lights. It is immaterial whether property holders are taxed to pay for the lights or the money is provided by voluntary contributions, if all contribute in proportion to the amount of property which they own, as they would have to do if the lights were paid for with money raised by direct taxation.

That the city should be lighted will scarcely be disputed. It makes the town more attractive, indicates that the citizens are progressive, and makes life and property more secure, as crime loves darkness, and shuns the light of an electric light as it does the glare of the sun. If the people want lights, and provide for the expense of maintaining them the City Council certainly will not and should not object.

What the American policy should be toward a possible partition of China ought not to puzzle our statesmen for a moment. Keep out of the grab and stay at home—take care, however, to safeguard our commercial rights if these be threatened. Our position as warden of this hemisphere under the Monroe Doctrine would be more unassailable than before by declining to join in any division of territory in the other hemisphere. To prevent grabs in South America we must refuse to grab in Asia.—Virginia Chronicle.

Won on a Bluff.

"That case in Maine recalls an incident in my own experience," said the lawyer, who profits largely upon the matrimonial troubles of others. "There was a rich widow living in the town where I began practice and after her weeds were discarded she was given over to the lighter ways of society. She was especially prone to flirtation at her favorite summer resort and her engagements there were held as lightly as those of the veriest summer girl. Her return home from a summer of unusual brilliance was followed in a short time by a respectable looking gentleman of 80 who showed his business qualities by walking into my office and putting down a handsome retainer before talking business."

"Now, sir," he stated with admirable directness, "I want you to begin a $50,000 suit against this wealthy widow. She gave me an unqualified promise of marriage and now refuses to make it good. Men have hearts to break and pride to humiliate, just as women have, and I propose to strike a blow for my sex."

"Would you compromise?" "Yes, in case you so advise, but not for less than half the sum named and a written apology from her. If it would help any in the matter of a settlement out of court, I have the affidavits of half a dozen poor devils that she has thrown over from time to time."

"The widow stormed and fumed and then capitulated. She couldn't face the prospect of having her foolish flirtations blazoned before the public. After she had wedded again and gone abroad my client made this admission to me: 'I was never engaged to that widow and had she proposed to settle by marrying me I would have run. I took chances on her forgetting just whom she did promise to marry and I won.'"—Detroit Free Press.

Animals in Groups.

The ingenuity of the sportsman is perhaps no better illustrated than by the use he puts the English language to in designating particular groups of animals. The following is a list of the terms which have been applied to the various classes:—A covey of partridges, a ride of pheasants, a wisp of snipe, a flight of doves or swallows, a muster of peacocks, a siege of herons, a building of rooks, a brood of grouse, a stand of plovers, a watch of nightingales, a clattering of clonghs, a herd or bunch of cattle, a flock of geese, a bevy of quails, a cast of hawks, a swarm of bees, a school of whales, a shoal of herrings, a herd of swine, a skulk of foxes, a pack of wolves, a drove of oxen, a sounder of hogs, a troop of monkeys, a pride of lions, a slough of bears, a gang of elk.

J. H. Smith of Buffalo Meadows is in town, having brought his family to Reno for the winter, where the school facilities can be taken advantage of. Mr. Smith will return to Buffalo in a few days.
Henry Ritter's New Year's lunch will be extra fine to-day. No one should miss it. Egg-nog and other fancy drinks will be a feature and Henry and Jim Kerr will extend a glad hand to all who come.
Messrs. Muller & Stumpf of the Faust Agency carry an excellent stock of wines and liquors. The wines are especially adapted for medicinal purposes. Orders filled in quantities to suit and all goods guaranteed.
Amity Lodge No. 8, Knights of Pythias, will install the officers-elect on next Tuesday evening. After the installation a fine collation will be served, to which all resident Knights and sojourning brothers are cordially invited.
The San Francisco Post says that A. B. Jackson, at one time a mining Superintendent on the Comstock, is very ill at the City and County Hospital. It is said that he is suffering from the want of proper nourishment, and an effort is being made to locate some of his former influential friends.
I have just received a complete and well selected stock of gents' furnishing goods, underwear, over-shirts, socks, suspenders, handkerchiefs, ties, etc., which I guarantee to be equal if not better than any in the town, which I will sell at prices that defy competition. My stock of domestic and imported cigars and tobaccos is complete in every particular, comprising such brands as the Nerve, Carl Dunder and Royal in the 5-cent goods, and El Belmont, Sanchez, Hays, De Valene, Internations, Hotel Brunswick, General Arthur and many others in the imported goods. Call and be satisfied. Free employment office in connection with the store. A. NELSON.

THE WHEELMEN.
The Grandest Social Affair Ever Given in Reno.
One of the largest social events and without doubt the grandest ever given in Reno was the magnificent ball at the Pavilion given last evening by the Reno Wheelmen. Long before the hour of 8 o'clock the hall was filled with an expectant and happy crowd and by 8:30 many extra chairs had to be provided to accommodate the continuous stream of people that were constantly arriving. Soon a double row of occupied chairs encircled the big hall and many of the guests were unable to find seats.
Prof. Wolf's splendid orchestra was present and promptly at the hour set, opened the festivities with an overture. The hall was artistically decorated, there being an abundance of bunting and evergreens with a perfect fringe of Japanese lanterns of all sizes. Large mirrors and pictures as well as decorated wheels embellished the walls on every hand. Pretty booths formed of evergreens were a feature and in fact the Pavilion never looked prettier. At the conclusion of the overture, Floor Director Wm. Pinniger announced the exhibition drill by members of the Wheelmen and as the orchestra struck up ten cyclists dressed in regulation racing costume of varied colors mounted on elaborately decorated wheels rode into the hall. Triangles, circles, crosses, double crosses and other intricate movements were made without a bobble. A number of the movements were executed through and around a double archway in the center of the hall that required close attention and careful riding.
The team consisted of Chas. Nash, leader, Chas. Hamp, Manuel Simas, John Thompson, J. and Ed Shaver, Joe Johnson, Sam Francovich, Jobe Taylor and Fred Brown. The boys received appreciative applause loud and frequently as they proceeded. After the exhibition the floor managers took charge and the grand march was called on, there being one hundred and thirty couples in line. Souvenir dancing programs were furnished and the merry dance went on.
The Wheelmen may well be proud of their efforts of last evening, for as a social event they eclipsed anything in the nature of a large ball ever given in town. They should also feel complimented at the recognition accorded them by the representative audience present and liberal patronage afforded.
The members of the club generally acted as reception committee, each wearing an appropriate badge and each exerting every effort to make the evening an enjoyable one for their guests. The management of the floor was under the supervision of R. B. Hawcroft, C. F. Becker, Dr. C. A. Coffin, J. C. Shaver, Sam Mozingo, C. Richard-son, F. Coffin, H. F. Ruhe, Gus Koppe and Geo. Becker with Wm. Pinniger, President of the club, as generalissimo, and the most perfect order and satisfaction prevailed.
At the midnight hour old '97 was given a hearty farewell and '98 was welcomed with a joyful cheer. Dancing continued until the 'we sma' hours of the glad New Year and many a heart, no doubt, beats faster to-day as thoughts revert to the scenes, pleasures and perhaps pledges that occurred at the occasion of the Reno Wheelmen's New Year's Eve ball of '97.

Death of Mrs. Daniel Huffaker.
Mrs. Daniel Huffaker, well known in Reno and on the Truckee Meadows, died at an early hour yesterday morning at her home at Huffakers, after a lingering illness.
Mrs. Huffaker, by her patient suffering and kindly manner had endeared herself to her neighbors and friends and will in consequence be greatly missed.
For sometime past she has been an invalid and was unable to leave her home, save on very rare occasions. She took great interest in the school affairs of the district and in fact all matters of a local character, giving such aid and encouragement as she could, although unable to take an active part. She always had a cheering word to say to others, notwithstanding her own ill health and seemed to take pleasure in seeing others happy.
She will be buried from the family residence on Sunday, (to-morrow), January 2, 1898, at 12 o'clock noon. The sympathy of the community will be extended to Dan Huffaker in his hour of bereavement.

Bragg Gets a Turkey at Last
Perseverance is one of the noble qualities of Editor Bragg and he has at last, after heroic efforts since Thanksgiving, succeeded in securing a turkey for New Year's dinner. In fact he has a second one in view and those goes the JOURNAL man one better. The educational institutions of the town, viz., the State University and High School, each in accord with the belief of educators, that brains should receive recognition before other considerations, gracefully donated the well dressed editor of the Gazette a turkey, so he is fixed for at least one good dinner and perhaps two. We are not particularly envious, but feel a little sore over Bragg receiving two turkeys, especially from appreciative champions of education. However, we have one last resort to even up matters with him and if Dr. Bergstein, Superintendent of the Insane Asylum, will get onto himself and remember as we will be able to stand Bragg's exultation off.

They May Go Too Far.
It was reported on the streets last evening that Hon. J. W. Haines of Genoa had received a threatening letter from the lynchers. A telephone query failed to confirm the report, but it would have made no difference to Mr. Haines had it been true. That gentleman is no longer a young man, and disease has to some extent weakened his body, but his mind is as strong as ever and he will fight those murderers to the last minute with all the vigor of youth and a mind matured by age and experience, and threats will be worse than idle.—Carson News.

Week day Prayer Meeting at 7 P. M. A Cordial invitation is given to all.

The Chinese Population.
The decadence of the Comstock is as strikingly shown in its effect upon the Chinese population as upon the white. Chung Kee, the Chinatown merchant is authority for the statement that the total number of Chinese now in Virginia, Gold Hill and American Flat only reaches 78, whereas after the big fire in 1878 there were upwards of thirty-six hundred. Chung Kee further affirms that there are only three or four wash houses here now, while there were thirty three after the fire.—Virginia Chronicle.

Experts Report.
Professors Ogden and Irelan, who were recently on the Comstock experting the Brunswick lode, have issued their report, copies of which arrived on the Comstock yesterday. Both of these experts express themselves as highly pleased with and hopeful of the future of the Brunswick lode. They recommend further development work all along the line and express themselves as being confident of discovering a big ore body in the near future.—Enterprise.

Snakes That Like Thunder.
One of the wonders of the bare, sandy plains of New Mexico is the thunder snakes. They are by no means common, yet they are often encountered by prairie travelers, especially before and after thunderstorms. Flashes of lightning and claps of thunder, which are so terrifying to bipeds and quadrupeds, seem to have the greatest charm and delight for these members of the serpent family. Whenever a thunderstorm comes up they have a regular picnic. They come crawling out of holes, from behind rocks and rotten stumps and enjoy the fan while it lasts. Their nature is quarrelsome, their character fierce, and they are aggressive in a high degree, although their markings are very beautiful. They are not poisonous, however; their bark is worse than their bite.—Chicago Record.

Leighton's "Cimabue."
In describing a visit paid to the late Lord Leighton, Mrs. Tooley said, that the artist on that occasion referred to the success of his first picture of note, "Cimabue," and to the fact, which evidently still pained him, that his next picture, "Orpheus," was greatly ridiculed.
"Where is the picture now?" he was asked.
"Don't I wish I knew!" he replied.
"It would be worth a fortune to me at the present time." And that was all the reference he made to it.
The curious part of the incident, however, lies in the fact that after his death the canvas of this very picture was discovered rolled up and thrown away in the coal cellar.—Strand Magazine.

Resented.
"That escaped criminal seems to have had rather the best of it," remarked the talkative friend.
"Not at all," replied the detective, drawing himself up haughtily. "We've got him so frightened he doesn't dare show his face where we are."—Washington Star.

Smart Lawyer.
Plankington—I understand that you had to go to law about that property that was left you. Have you a smart lawyer?
Bloomfield—You bet I have. He owns the property now.—Pick Me Up.

In Vienna the height of a house must not exceed 82 feet. The floor of the last story must not be more than 65.6 feet above the level of the street.
